

Dear Customers of Angelfood Ministries.

First United Methodist Church, a local distribution host for Angelfood ministries, has received an announcement that Angelfood Ministries has suspended food distribution for the month of September. They state that they are working hard to resume operations and their distribution process in near future.

First United Methodist Church, Hammond, Indiana, has cancelled all September orders that it has received and refunded payments for paid directly to us for those orders.

We have initiated the refund process for any September online orders for our location, but, Angelfood Ministries is ultimately responsible for refunding those payments.

Please contact their Customer Service Department 888-819-3745 for assistance.

For Further information, please go to the www.angelfoodministries.com.